NHTSA Announces Winners of 2021 Public Service Awards

WASHINGTON – The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration announced the 15 winners of the 2021 NHTSA Public Service Awards today.

“Safety is NHTSA’s top priority, and we depend on our local and state safety partners to help us save lives on our nation’s roads. These 15 highway safety professionals have all made a difference in their communities, and their service is an example to us all,” said NHTSA Acting Administrator Dr. Steven Cliff.

Dr. Cliff presented the awards at the virtual 2021 Lifesavers National Conference on Highway Safety Priorities on April 28. The conference is the nation’s largest gathering of highway safety professionals.

The NHTSA Public Service Award winners will receive plaques engraved with the following citations:

- Robert F. Dallas, Esquire, transportation policy and law attorney, Buckley King LPA, Atlanta: For your dedicated work as a community advocate for traffic safety programs and legislation in Georgia.
- Officer Frank Enko, Baltimore County Police Department, Dundalk, Maryland: For your extensive efforts to deliver advanced traffic safety training to the Maryland law enforcement community.
- Sergeant Glen Glaser Jr., state DRE coordinator, California Highway Patrol, Rancho Murrieta, California: For your outstanding efforts to maintain the California DRE program through training and re-certification during the pandemic.

- Captain William R. Haynes, retired, New Hampshire State Police, Center Barnstead, New Hampshire: For your leadership in dramatically changing the culture of motor vehicle occupant protection in New Hampshire.
